

Aggravated Bladder

The Following Letter, Written by Mr. William G. Morton, Proves Without a Doubt What a Wonderful Remedy Is

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

For Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood.

Gentlemen—I have been suffering for several years with an aggravated case of bladder trouble and received no benefit until I began the use of Warner's Safe Cure. I am now on the second bottle of your remedy, and am improving daily. What it has already done for me warrants my feeling that a complete cure will be effected by continuing its use a while longer. I cannot speak too highly of your remedy, which has worked such wonders for me, and I will always keep it on hand.

After suffering for years Mr. Morton notes marked improvement while taking the second bottle. There is no case of kidney or bladder trouble that Warner's Safe Cure will not relieve almost immediately, and if you have pains in the back or other symptoms, or if any of your ancestry has been troubled with kidney disease, you should lose no time in getting a bottle of Warner's Safe Cure and begin taking it as prescribed.

Warner's Safe Cure is made from the fresh juice of plants and medicinal roots, gathered at the proper season in the various quarters of the globe. Men skilled in botany and chemistry compound it. It is pleasant to the taste and agreeable to the most sensitive stomach.

Constipation, Biliousness and Indigestion

When the bowels do not move freely, it shows that the liver is inactive, and the bile, instead of being eliminated by the intestines, is taken up by the blood. In consequence the internal organs are deranged and you have a bilious attack. After frequent attacks the skin becomes sallow and rough. You are troubled with heartburn, constipation, coated tongue, bad breath, sour stomach, loss of appetite, pains in the side and you feel out of sorts, and should take Warner's Safe Pills, purely vegetable, sugar-coated, absolutely free from injurious substances, a perfect laxative. They cure indigestion, biliousness, torpid liver and constipation. They do not grip or leave any bad after effects.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in 50c and $1.00 sizes and is sold by all druggists. Warner's Safe Pills 25c, a box of 50.

Sample Bottle and Box of Pills Free

To convince every sufferer from disease of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood that WARNER'S SAFE CURE will absolutely cure, a sample bottle and a sample box of Warner's Safe Pills will be sent FREE OF CHARGE, postpaid, to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in the Richmond Times-Dispatch. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed by the publisher.

BANKER'S DEAD BODY FOUND IN EAST RIVER

Addison M. Davies, Former Lynchburg Financier, Believed to Have Been Robbed and Murdered.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—This evening at 4 o'clock at Round Oak Baptist Church, Caroline county, James B. Filipo and Miss Selva Anne Sumner were united in marriage. The bride was escorted by her father, Mr. J. W. Reynolds, officiating. Miss Irene Filipo, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and Guy Sumner, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

Davies' son, C. M. Davies, who is employed in the West End district, believes his father was murdered, as he had $500 when last seen by friends, and less than $100 was found in his clothes.

Davies' body was discovered by Captain Tyrrell, of the Red D. Line, in the East River, at the foot of Joram Street, Brooklyn. Davies was found floating in the water, and his body was recovered by the police.

For the last three weeks the police had been conducting a rigid search for the missing man. On November 13 Davies visited the home of Mrs. George J. Coryell, at 131 East Twenty-first Street, Manhattan, and spent the evening playing cards there. A roll of bills amounting to $500 was displayed by him shortly before he left for his home. Mrs. Coryell and a friend, accompanied Davies to the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn Bridge, and saw him take a Greyhound surface car. That was the last seen of him by any of his friends, so far as is known. His son believes he displayed the money in the presence of strangers while on his way to Brooklyn, and that he was robbed and murdered. Only $50 in cash and a check for $2 were found upon him when his body was recovered.

Mr. Davies, following his retirement from the banking business in Lynchburg, became connected with the Daily Banker and Stockholder, a Wall Street publication, of which Anthony Sumner is editor. He also held a position in the United States customs service.

DIVORCE VIEWS CAUSE TROUBLE

They Bring About Resignation of Member of U. of P. Board of Trustees.

PROFESSOR THE OFFENDER

Teacher Had Read Paper Setting Forth Liberal Ideas on Marriage.

PHILADELPHIA, December 4.—Because he could not sanction either the views on marriage and divorce held by Professor J. P. Lichtenberger, or his retention in the faculty of the Wharton School, Walter George Smith has resigned from the board of trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, with which he had been associated for eighteen years.

Mr. Smith's objection to the professor was based on a paper which the latter read at the annual meeting of the American Sociological Society in Atlantic City last December. In it he supported the views of Professor George E. Howard, of the University of Nebraska, as expressed in a paper on "Is Free Divorce an Evil?"

In his paper Professor Lichtenberger expresses this view: "Popular moral sentiment recognizes worse evils than divorce and has come not only to approve but to encourage the breaking of the conventional marriage tie rather than the crushing of the human spirit."

Mr. Smith is a member of the Roman Catholic Church and as such is an ardent opponent of divorce, and the expressed opinion of Professor Lichtenberger is decidedly at variance with his views. From the viewpoint of Mr. Smith they were opinions to which the university by retaining the professor in the Wharton School gives a degree of support.

The announcement that Mr. Smith had resigned from the board of trustees created lively interest at the university among both students and faculty. Persons who were in a position to know the history of the fight which he made as a trustee to have Professor Lichtenberger ousted refused to talk. Provost Harrison declined to make a further statement than the public announcement of Smith's resignation.

Mr. Smith gave out a statement in which the cause of his step was clearly indicated and Professor Lichtenberger when questioned regarding the affair gave out a copy of the Atlantic City paper which caused the trouble.

Smith's statement follows: "Walter George Smith," being shown the memorandum furnished by Provost Harrison, of the university, in relation to his resignation from the board of trustees, stated that he had presented his resignation on or about the 27th of May last and that the same had been laid over by the trustees until their November meeting, when it was accepted.

"His reason for resigning was because of a difference of opinion between himself and the provost and the board as to the election of Dr. J. P. Lichtenberger to the position of an associate professor in the Wharton School of the university. His objections to Dr. Lichtenberger were not based upon any limitation of personal character or ability, but because of the views expressed by him at the meeting of the American Sociological Society held at Atlantic City December 28 to 30, 1908, which appear in the transactions of that society on page 169.

"The discussion referred to was upon the subject of a paper by Professor George E. Howard, of the University of Nebraska, entitled 'Is Free Divorce an Evil?' Mr. Smith was of the opinion that the views held by Dr. Lichtenberger were not such as could be properly held by a professor in the university in the department especially dealing with sociological questions."

Professor Lichtenberger, interviewed at his home last night, viewed at the time the resignation of Mr. Smith and which he permitted the reporter to read follows: "We might as well seek to stop suicide by prohibitive legislation as to divorce. The same method that Professor Howard has indicated is constructive treatment of the cases rather than destructive treatment of the results.

Marriage in the aspect we are discussing is the legal sanction of the social custom of the family. "It is dependent upon law neither for its institution nor for its perpetuation. The time-honored landmarks of religious authority have been obliterated and the new basis has not yet been fully established. The case is not different in the sphere of ethics. With the changed point of view have come new ethical valuations. The stern morality of Puritanism on theoretical standards is being replaced by a practical morality arising out of our changed social conditions. "As a combined result, virtue no longer consists in literal obedience to arbitrary standards set by community or church, but rather in conduct conforming to the demands of a growing personality."

Marriage Made for Man. "Whereas in marriage once consisted in loyalty to the institution and any suffering which might arise was to be endured rather than to bring reproach upon any institution vested with peculiar divine sanction, to-day our ethical and religious ideas cause us to feel that marriage was made for man and not man for marriage, and that the moral value of marriage lies in the mutual happiness of those who enter into it."

Popular moral sentiment, which more than ever regards the ideal marriage as the supreme method of realizing perpetuity and the education of the race, nevertheless recognizes worse evils than divorce and has come not only to approve but to encourage the breaking of the conventional marriage tie to the crushing of the human spirit."

Professor Lichtenberger came to the University of Pennsylvania from the New York School of Philanthropy. He holds a prominent rank among students in sociology in this country. Mr. Smith was the only Catholic on the board of trustees. He is an active member of the State Bar Association and is prominent in Catholic society.

He is a graduate of the university, having received his degree in 1876, and was admitted to the bar the following year.

PHI BETA KAPPA SOCIETY. Annual Celebration at William and Mary on Monday Night.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—WILLIAMSBURG, VA., December 4.—Preparations are being made for the annual celebration of the Phi Beta Kappa Society next Monday night. A number of well known men will be present.

Hon. R. M. Hughes, of Norfolk, will preside, and after prayer by Dr. C. E. Bishop will introduce the orator of the occasion, Dr. Kirby Smith, professor of Latin in Johns Hopkins University. Carson.

SCOUT SUICIDE THEORY. Relatives of John Simpson Also Deny That He Was an Ingersoll Student.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]—NORFOLK, VA., December 4.—The relatives of John Jacob Simpson, who is alleged to have killed himself Sunday morning yesterday, scout the suicide report, or that he was a student of Robert Ingersoll. On the other hand, they advance no theory as to how he met death.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence in Berkeley Ward.

BIG WHALE CAPTURED. Monster Fish Was Sixty Feet Long and Eighteen Feet in Diameter.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., December 4.—A large whale has been captured in Centre Point Bay, in Plaquemine parish. The big fish was sixty feet long and eighteen feet in diameter. The whale was taken by the bay from the gulf during high tide, and was unable to get out when the water went down. It was found almost another day in the mud, in a dying condition. Fifteen barrels of whale oil have been taken from the monster, and it is es-

Let Your Bread Be "Butter Nut" Every Day

Butter Nut Bread--What Is It?

It is the heart of the golden wheat.
It is as light as the falling snow flake.
It is as pure as the opening Lily.
It is as clean as the crystal ice.
It is as nutritious as any food that grows.
It is as delicious as Mother's hot rolls.
It is as fresh as the morning dew drops.
It is as low priced as the commonest bread.

In short, Butter Nut Bread is all that good flour, thorough mixing, perfect baking and careful handling can make it—a bread for the man and woman in every walk of life who wants the best.

You and your family will be happier if you serve Butter Nut Bread exclusively—indigestion will be unknown—you will be happy—healthy—strong.

And get this thought: you can buy Butter Nut Bread just as easily as you can buy any other bread. Your grocer sells it and the price is the same. The trade mark is on every loaf—look for it. Buy Butter Nut, accept no imitation.
